Modelling Environmental Dynamics and Hominin Dispersals Around the Mid-Pleistocene Revolution (METHOD)

INQUA IFG 1604F

In this workshop we intend to collect, discuss and categorize various hypotheses concerning hominin appearance, disappearance and dispersal around the Mid-Pleistocene Revolution (MPR). The focus of this workshop lies in Western Eurasia, but we include and invite presentations concentrating on other continents also. This workshop plays a crucial role in organizing the diverse hypotheses which are subsequently subject to modelling and are supposed to be tested by comparing the results of different modelling techniques. We intend to identify a set of questions and/or predictions, which should be tested by various modelling approaches. An additional focus in this workshop deals with the question of time and spatio-temporal scaling in the diverse hypotheses.

Abstract (Deadline: March 31, 2017)

We are inviting presentations and kindly ask you to submit a short abstract until March 31, 2017 to be included in the abstract volume. Please send your contributions to info@method-ifg.com.

Presentations

Presentations are warmly welcome. Please prepare your contribution for 30 minutes max. in PowerPoint format. We reserved a lot of time for discussion and work in groups and we intend to keep it. Should you intend to show short movies please make sure to convert them into a Windows compatible format.

Conference proceedings

We intend to publish conference papers in Quaternary International. Further information about the publication will be distributed in the meeting.
